DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-29, drawn to a eukaryotic double-stranded RNA (dsRNA) expression vector, and host cells comprising the expression vector classified in class 435, subclass 320.1.
- II. Claims 30-49, drawn to a vaccine comprising a eukaryotic double-stranded RNA (dsRNA) expression vector and methods of use to protect a susceptible mammal against colonization or infection by a pathogen, classified in class 424, subclass 184.1.
- III. Claims 50-68, drawn to methods of generating a dsRNA comprising culturing a eukaryotic host cell that contains a eukaryotic double-stranded RNA (dsRNA) expression vector, and methods of screening designated nucleic acids capable of inhibiting expression of an essential eukaryotic gene, classified in class 435, subclasses 91.1, 6.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions of Group I and Groups II-III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the vector and host cells of Group I can be used in the methods of Group II or Group III. Alternatively, for example, the nucleic acids of Group I could be used to generate labeled probes comprising a nucleic acid sequence of interest.

Inventions of Groups II and Group III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions of Groups II & III are biologically and functionally different and distinct from each other and do not render the other obvious. The compositions of Group II comprise an additional element that is not present in the compositions of Group III: e.g. a pharmaceutically acceptable non-toxic vehicle. The compositions of Group II are used in a method that comprises additional methods steps that are not present in the methods of Group III (i.e. administration of a vaccine to a subject mammal) and which have a different effect than the methods of Group III (i.e. generation of protective immunity in the mammal). The methods of Group III, on the other hand, are directed towards screening for dsRNAs that are capable of inhibiting an essential eukaryotic gene.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
